Nature of alert: Attempted suicide and accidental death at Chartham on 16 June 2014 At around 11:00 on 16 June 2015 a 74 year old male was struck by a train and died whilst preventing a family friend from committing suicide. The 38 year old female survived the attempt to take her life. The event was widely reported in the press. Anniversary dates of 'sensational' events such as this one have the potential to attract vulnerable people to the same location to take their lives. This is known as social contagion.	Recommended action: Network Rail and TOC staff in and around the area should be especially vigilant for anyone showing signs of distress or upset particularly during the morning peak. Where possible additional patrols of the station and surrounding area should be undertaken by BTP officers or Network Rail personnel. The anniversary of this tragic event could also be marked at the station by members of the public leaving 'remembrance' or 'memorial' tokens. These should be removed at the earliest opportunity in line with the industry's guidance on 'Fatality memorials/tributes on the network'.
